Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 48-59 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance for Claims 48-59: The best prior art of record, Rickard neither discloses nor fairly suggests in a computer-implemented method for generating non-binding indications for at least one security, the limitations of accessing, from at least one computer, all records of open orders from a database of an order management system, wherein the order management system database is associated with a trading firm and wherein the order management system is coupled to at least one workstation utilized by the trading firm and wherein the order management system database comprises at least the following fields; (a) security name, symbol or identifier, (b) transaction type, (c) total order size, (d) quantity of the security placed elsewhere, and (e) quantity of the security executed; generating, by at least one computer, all non-binding indications from the accessed records of orders that are suitable for transmission to at least one electronic marketplace, each non-binding indication comprising security name, symbol or identifier, the transaction type, and an available quantity, such available quantity being determined by the accessed records; and sending the suitable non-binding indications to the at least one electronic marketplace. No secondary reference was found which would fairly combine with Rickard to make the claimed invention. Applicant's arguments in the response of 12 July 2006 and the interview of 26 June 2006 with respect to the above-cited limitation were persuasive.

The Kawanabe reference is cited for its teachings on securities trading.
